TEXAS LIMESTONE COLLECTION

Limestone has been used for centuries as flooring and architectural elements. It is a classic building material with a timeless quality, whose beauty only increases with age. We have the luxury of quarrying our own Texas limestones and have grouped three of them together for this collection. They are available with a smooth, honed finish and in a variety of sizes, shapes and patterns. Additionally, because we use our own blocks and manufacturing facilities, we are able to provide custom thicknesses for large, demanding projects without greatly affecting overall costs and lead times.
